Rotarians Listen to District Governor Abbott

One of the best attended Rotary luncheons of the year Wednesday heard District Governor J. H. Abbott of North Battleford point out the broad possibilities open to clubs in the district for fulfilling the movement's ideal of service, and members of the club were charged with increasing their efforts to promote fellowship and encourage members to become better Rotarians.

Reviewing the history of Rotary, Mr. Abbott explained that rigid restrictions followed in selecting members resulted in a scarcity of young men in clubs throughout the world and that governors of the various districts were deeply concerned over the situation. He pointed to the fact that Rotary was born out of necessity to render service and he described seven fields of service open to clubs. Possibilities in each field are unlimited.

The fields he discussed were: club service, vocational service, community service, international service, Rotary relief fund, public relations and youth service.

Rotary clubs can do much to encourage and foster service, he said, by broadening acquaintances, inviting men of quality and integrity to their memberships, by the application of the ideals of Rotary and by work in the international field.

Explaining that "acquaintanceship begets friendship," Mr. Abbott felt that clubs should charge each member with the duty of developing fellow members to become better Rotarians and improve their clubs. One of the important features for the success of clubs, he stated, was regular attendance. He suggested numerous methods for enlivening luncheons and meetings.

Deep interest in rendering vocational service, he asserted and pointed to the great need of such guidance in the modern world.

Discussing community service, Mr. Abbott encouraged members to take an active part as members of boards and organizations working on community enterprise and to help the club render the largest service of which it is capable. There is much scope in making life more pleasant and a little more happy for others, he added.

Rotarians, he felt, could accomplish much to encourage and foster understanding, good will and international peace among nations. Outlook on international affairs should be discussed fairly and intelligently but clubs should guard against offending clubs in other countries.

The Rotary relief fund for alleviating suffering of Rotarians and their families in war-torn areas is doing fine work, he reported. One of its undertakings is the sending of monthly food parcels to 30 Rotarians from England, Scotland and Poland who are prisoners of war.

By their example members can build public confidence in Rotary, he explained.

In the field of youth service Mr. Abbott said, Rotarians can make a study of the needs of youth and aid in solving the problems confronting young men and women of the world.

J. E. Meeks Prize Winner

The Annual Carnival, staged by the Raymond Athletic Association and the local Lions Club closed at 2 a.m. Friday morning of last week, after writing another chapter of successful history into the annals of local events.

The hall had been artistically decorated by the Committees in charge and the booths were arranged for convenience as well as for appearance, and while the dancers were enjoying their rhythm to the strains of a Lethbridge swing band, the games in the various booths went on steadily.

The crowd the opening night was a little small, but the returns for the evening were quite satisfactory, those present being free in their spending. The second evening the large hall was packed, and the evening was a decided success, the games from 9 p.m. until midnight being kept busy with players eager to carry away some of the prizes from the various tables.

No report has been made on what the net proceeds will be but according to those in charge the gross receipts for the two evenings were in the neighborhood of $1,900. Interest was keen the second night in the drawing of the lovely prizes, and when at 1:30 the draw for the Chesterfield was made by Mr. J. E. Meeks of Welling.

A large crowd was so quiet you could almost hear the clock tick. Jim Meeks of Raymond held the lucky ticket for this prize. Jackie son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Holt was made glad when his ticket won the Bicycle, the grand prize for the Kids Raffle, and the skates, a special door prize for the youngsters were won by S. MacPhee. Door prizes drawn for at regular intervals were well distributed and consisted of cushions, dogs, candy, cash and what have you.

The Carnival committees are especially thankful to all who assisted in any way in making the big do the success that it was. One committeeman was heard to remark that people of the Town had never before been so free in their donations for prizes, for supplies for the refreshment tables and such, and there was no dearth of help in the various booths, for all of which the sponsors are very thankful. May we, on behalf of the ones in charge of the Big Carnival say "thank you" to everyone who assisted either by attendance for fun, or by helping in booths for the fine success achieved. People were present from all over Southern Alberta to swell the crowd.

The First Ward Boy Scouts last week received their Xmas trees for this year, 501 of the finest B.C. spruce we have ever had, was how one person stated it. Trees for every home in town, and also for the street.

Mr. Motorist, please spare those trees. Business men would like to decorate the street if they could feel assured that motorists would not break the trees and lights and so on would not be taken from the trees. Could not we do that much for our Town.

Quarterly Conference Well Attended

Quarterly Conference of the Taylor Stake of Zion was held Friday evening, Saturday evening and Sunday last with Elder Rufus K. Hardy of the First Council of Seventy representing the General Authorities at all of the meetings except Sunday evening when other appointments made it impossible for him to attend.

The first meeting Friday evening was dedication meeting at the new Chapel in the Tyrell's Lake Branch, where Elder Hardy dedicated the building for the religious worship of the people there. He spoke of his joy at seeing so nice a building ready for dedication, and spoke of dedications in the mission fields where he has spent so much time. A fine paper on the history of the Tyrell's Lake branch and the building, was written by Mrs. Gus Roloff and was read by Mrs. Kimball Anderson. Other speakers at this service were Elder Jas. Hamling, Branch President, all three members of the Stake Presidency and S. I. May, Mesdames Salmon, Dahl, Palmer and Seville with Marie Strong at the Piano were present and rendered two quartets and a vocal duet was rendered by Mesdames Roloff and Nelson of the branch there. There were 35 people present and after the meeting ice cream and cookies were served.

Saturday evening the Priesthood session of the Conference was held, and after the opening exercises, the Aaronic Priesthood members and supervisors separated for special work, and Elders E. P. Tanner, I. B. Roberts and S. I. May spoke briefly to assigned topics, preceding Elder Hardy who gave a very interesting talk on the responsibility of the Quorum leaders to their members, and from his many experiences related one or two, where capable and willing men, had been lost to their quorums for years because of some little misunderstanding, real or fancied, that a short visit in the spirit of fellowship and love would have cleared away.

At this session Pres. T. Geo. Wood presented the names of a number of Elders, mostly from the Stirling Ward, for advancement to the Seventies Quorum, and the assembly voted to sustain the recommendations.

SUNDAY MORNING At 9 a.m. a special missionary meeting for Stake missionaries was held, and here Elder Hardy as a member of the body who has the Stake Missionary work in charge, told what was expected of the Stake missionaries, and what fine success was attending their labors in some Stakes of the Church. In actual cost to the Church, converts through the Stake Missions were costing 68c. each. This was very small compared to converts in the foreign field, and he urged the missionaries to keep on.

At 10 a.m. four missionaries who had been called to the West Canadian Mission, with headquarters in Edmonton were called to speak briefly. These are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shields of the Warner branch, Elder Ray G. Hardy of Stirling and Elder Isaac B. Roberts of Raymond. Mrs. Honnie Nalder and Mrs. Arthur Garner, both with boys in the foreign field spoke as Missionary mothers. Heber F. Allen of the Stake Presidency reported on the Regional Welfare meeting held in Cardston on Monday.

Speaking against the liquor habit Pres. Hardy told a very fine story, and urged the youth especially to refrain from these practices that enslave and tear down. He stated that our Church were sending men into high positions in the nations of the world, men who kept the Word of Wisdom, and because of the exemplary lives were gaining the respect and confidence of rulers of nations. He told of the appointment of Elder Orson Hyde in 1840 to dedicate Palestine for the return of the Jews, and how in the midst of poverty Elder Hyde accomplished this labor, fulfilling the words of the Solomon in this mission. And, said the speaker, since the triumphal march of Gen. Allenby into Jerusalem in 1917 when the land was given back to the Jews, the prayer of Elder Hyde was being fulfilled before our eyes, and our Church had had a big influence in World affairs ever since its organization in 1830.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON After the opening exercises Pres. Wood announced release of 13 Stake missionaries and the appointment of 15 new ones. The Elders quorum of the Stirling Ward and one Magrath ward had been re-organized and these changes were read. Stake Clerk I. B. Roberts then read the General Church and Stake Authorities for vote.

Pres. T. Geo. Wood spoke briefly and expressed his appreciation for the opportunity he enjoyed of laboring for the people of the Stake. Expressing his pride in the people of the Stake he said that in a visit to the Stake meeting in Winnipeg he was glad to see the activity of former Taylor Stake people. Speaking to the parents he urged greater understanding between parents and children, and said, "Never turn your boy or girl from your door. They are yours and will come back to you if you only live your religion."

Pres. Hardy congratulated the Stake Choir on their fine work, the large congregation for their faith in coming, and praised the faith of the people for the fine house we had to meet in, Speaking of the love that the living of the Gospel implants in the hearts of people, he said that the Church would save the nation, in fulfillment of prophecy, by their example, their virtue and the light of their lives. He urged the people to be thankful for the blessings they were receiving, their nation, their freedom and the courts of justice, which were not manhandled by the wicked, the greedy and those whose only interests were their own.

Other speakers were Elders Geo. Thompson, and Wm. Spackman.

The Stake Choir was present at this session and rendered a fine program of lovely anthems.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SESSION The large building was filled to the doors for the Mutual meeting Sunday evening, where Elder John L. Allen, Stake Supt. of the Y.M.M.I.A. was in charge. The singing and music for the service was furnished

Fine Evening at Lions Charter Night Party

LIBRARY BUSY PLACE

Raymond's Public Library is growing steadily in the number of books and periodicals on its shelves, in the number of members, and also in the use made of the Reading Room. To the person who only visits the Library one in a while, and who seldom, if ever, looks around the shelves, the Library is just another place in town. However to those who are acquainted with it, the work of the Library Board and our local Librarian assumes a really important place in the town.

Look at this report of November's activities, which in scanning the records, appears to be an ordinary month, and see if you have appreciated, as every good citizen should appreciate, what is being done by this institution for public benefit.

Days open in month, 20. Hours opened 60, or 3 per day. Books loaned to public 2,009, or better than 100 each day.

Persons using the reading room, 1,342, or 67 plus each day.

Library memberships: Adults 997, Girls 380, Boys 334.

49 Magazines come to the Library shelves every month, and 81 new books were added last month. During November 30 books were repaired.

This report is certainly praise worthy. It proves a number of things. People of Raymond, like to read, and they like to read good books and magazines. The use that was made of the reading to keep up with the times. It proves too, that our Librarian is making the Library pleasant and interesting, so that people really enjoy going there to change their reading material and to spend a few minutes among the thousands of volumes on the shelves there.

Growing from one room to three in a few short years, with the third room simply a mass of shelves around the walls and with racks in the middle of it, Raymond may be justly proud of its Library.

by the Mutual Chorus and the pep they put into their singing made it very enjoyable for everyone.

Pres. T. Geo. Wood gave a stirring message to the young people on the blessings and responsibility of "Marriage" and urged marriage in the Temple as the right and proper way for all the young men and young women of the Church. Pres. M. T. King urged the young people to live the laws of the Gospel if they would attain the perfection and success the Lord intended us to achieve. Elder John L. Allen welcomed the large audience and expressed his joy and satisfaction at the response the youth of the Stake were giving to Mutual Work.

The audience repeated the M.I.A. theme "I the Lord am bound when ye do as I say, but when ye do not as I say, ye will make their home in Ray-mond have no promise." Elder Far-nell Nelson, recently returned home just completed and from the Canadian Mission where the groom has employment on this theme, which was followed by a panel discussion. Factories, Ltd. Then the entire audience in one minute of silent reverence to Pres. Heber H. Grant, whose life has been an inspiration to the youth of Mormondom for so many years.

The Lions First Charter Night Party was held in the Opera House on Wednesday December 3rd 1941, with Pres. R. Pack in the Chair.

"O Canada" and "America" were sung and prayer was offered by Lion O. H. Snow.

Tail Twisters were appointed and they started their fun by having all the bald men fined.

Lion L. D. King then introduced the visiting clubs and their Presidents.

The Banquet consisting of Fruit Cocktail, Fried Chicken and Pie Ala Mode was served by the ladies of the 2nd Ward to 147 guests. Lion M. T. King then proposed a toast to the King. Lion Golden Snow was then put in charge of the rest of the program.

Jas. H. Walker, M.L.A., then addressed the assembly followed by three songs by the Raymond Lions Club.

This was followed by community singing. Maybelle Anderson and Emma Dahl pleased the members with one of their favorite Piano duets.

Harry Faibanks gave a step dance which should have been encored but Harry thought otherwise.

2 Solos by Miss Jeannine Wilde were enjoyed by all present.

Ronda Dahl then entertained with a humorous skit.

Pres. R. Pack then introduced the guest speaker of the evening from Shelby, Mon. Past Dist. Gov. Geo. C. Hoyt who gave the club an inspiring talk.

The Lions Quartette from Lethbridge, accompanied by Mrs. Geo. Brown rendered several selections in their usual good style. They concluded by singing their contest number at the convention at New Orleans Viz "I Dream of Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair." The balance of the evening was spent dancing. The Cody Seven furnished the music.

E. W. Hinman of the Cardston High School staff has been named a school inspector and has asked to be released from his Cardston contract as soon as a substitute can be found. He has his degree from the B.Y.U. at Provo.

WEDDING BELLS

McMULLIN — WALKER

At the Alberta Temple on Thursday, in the presence of parents and relatives of both young people, Nolan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McMullin, and Jas. H. Walker, were united in marriage, with Pres. Edw. J. Wood performing the ceremony. A large crowd of friends witnessed the ceremony and greeted the young couple in the large upstairs room to wish them success and happiness in their married life. The newlyweds when ye do not as I say, ye will make their home in Raymond where they have a new reh Nelson, recently returned home just completed and from the Canadian Mission where the groom has employment with Canadian Sugar Factories, Ltd.

Both are popular members of the town's younger set, and Pres. Heber H. Grant, whose life has been an inspiration to the youth of Mormondom for so many years.

"THEY ARE DOING FINE WAR JOB," SAYS NATIONAL
SALVAGE DIRECTOR

Ottawa: Canada's National Salvage Campaign is reaching out into many small communities, whose efforts in collecting secondary materials for war industries are winning the approval of the salvage director.

"Devoted workers in towns and villages and rural communities from coast to coast are doing more for Canada's war effort than they may imagine," said William Knightley, director of the drive on waste. "They are turning in unexpected quantities of metals, secondary textiles, waste paper—all of which are at this moment on their way to Canadian factories turning out war contracts."

"Recent statistics, released by the records section of the National Salvage Office, bear out this statement."

Some of the towns "Williamsburg is a small Ontario town having a population of 300. During the month of September it undertook salvage of bones, iron and steel, non-ferrous metals, rags. It raised $160 for war charity during that month."

Wheatley, Ontario, with a population of 800, collected over three tons of waste paper, three quarters of a ton of old auto tires, six tons of scrap iron, three-quarters of a ton of rags, and some waste paper, during September. It raised $115 for war charity.

Rockland, Ontario, with 180 residents, and not on rail and is setting a record for small centers. The salvage drive there is under the jurisdiction of the Women's Institute, which to date has collected ten and a half tons of scrap metal, nearly two tons of rags, over two tons of tin foil, six and a half tons of paper, and other miscellaneous items. The total revenue to the end of September amounted to $410, all of which has been turned over to war charities.

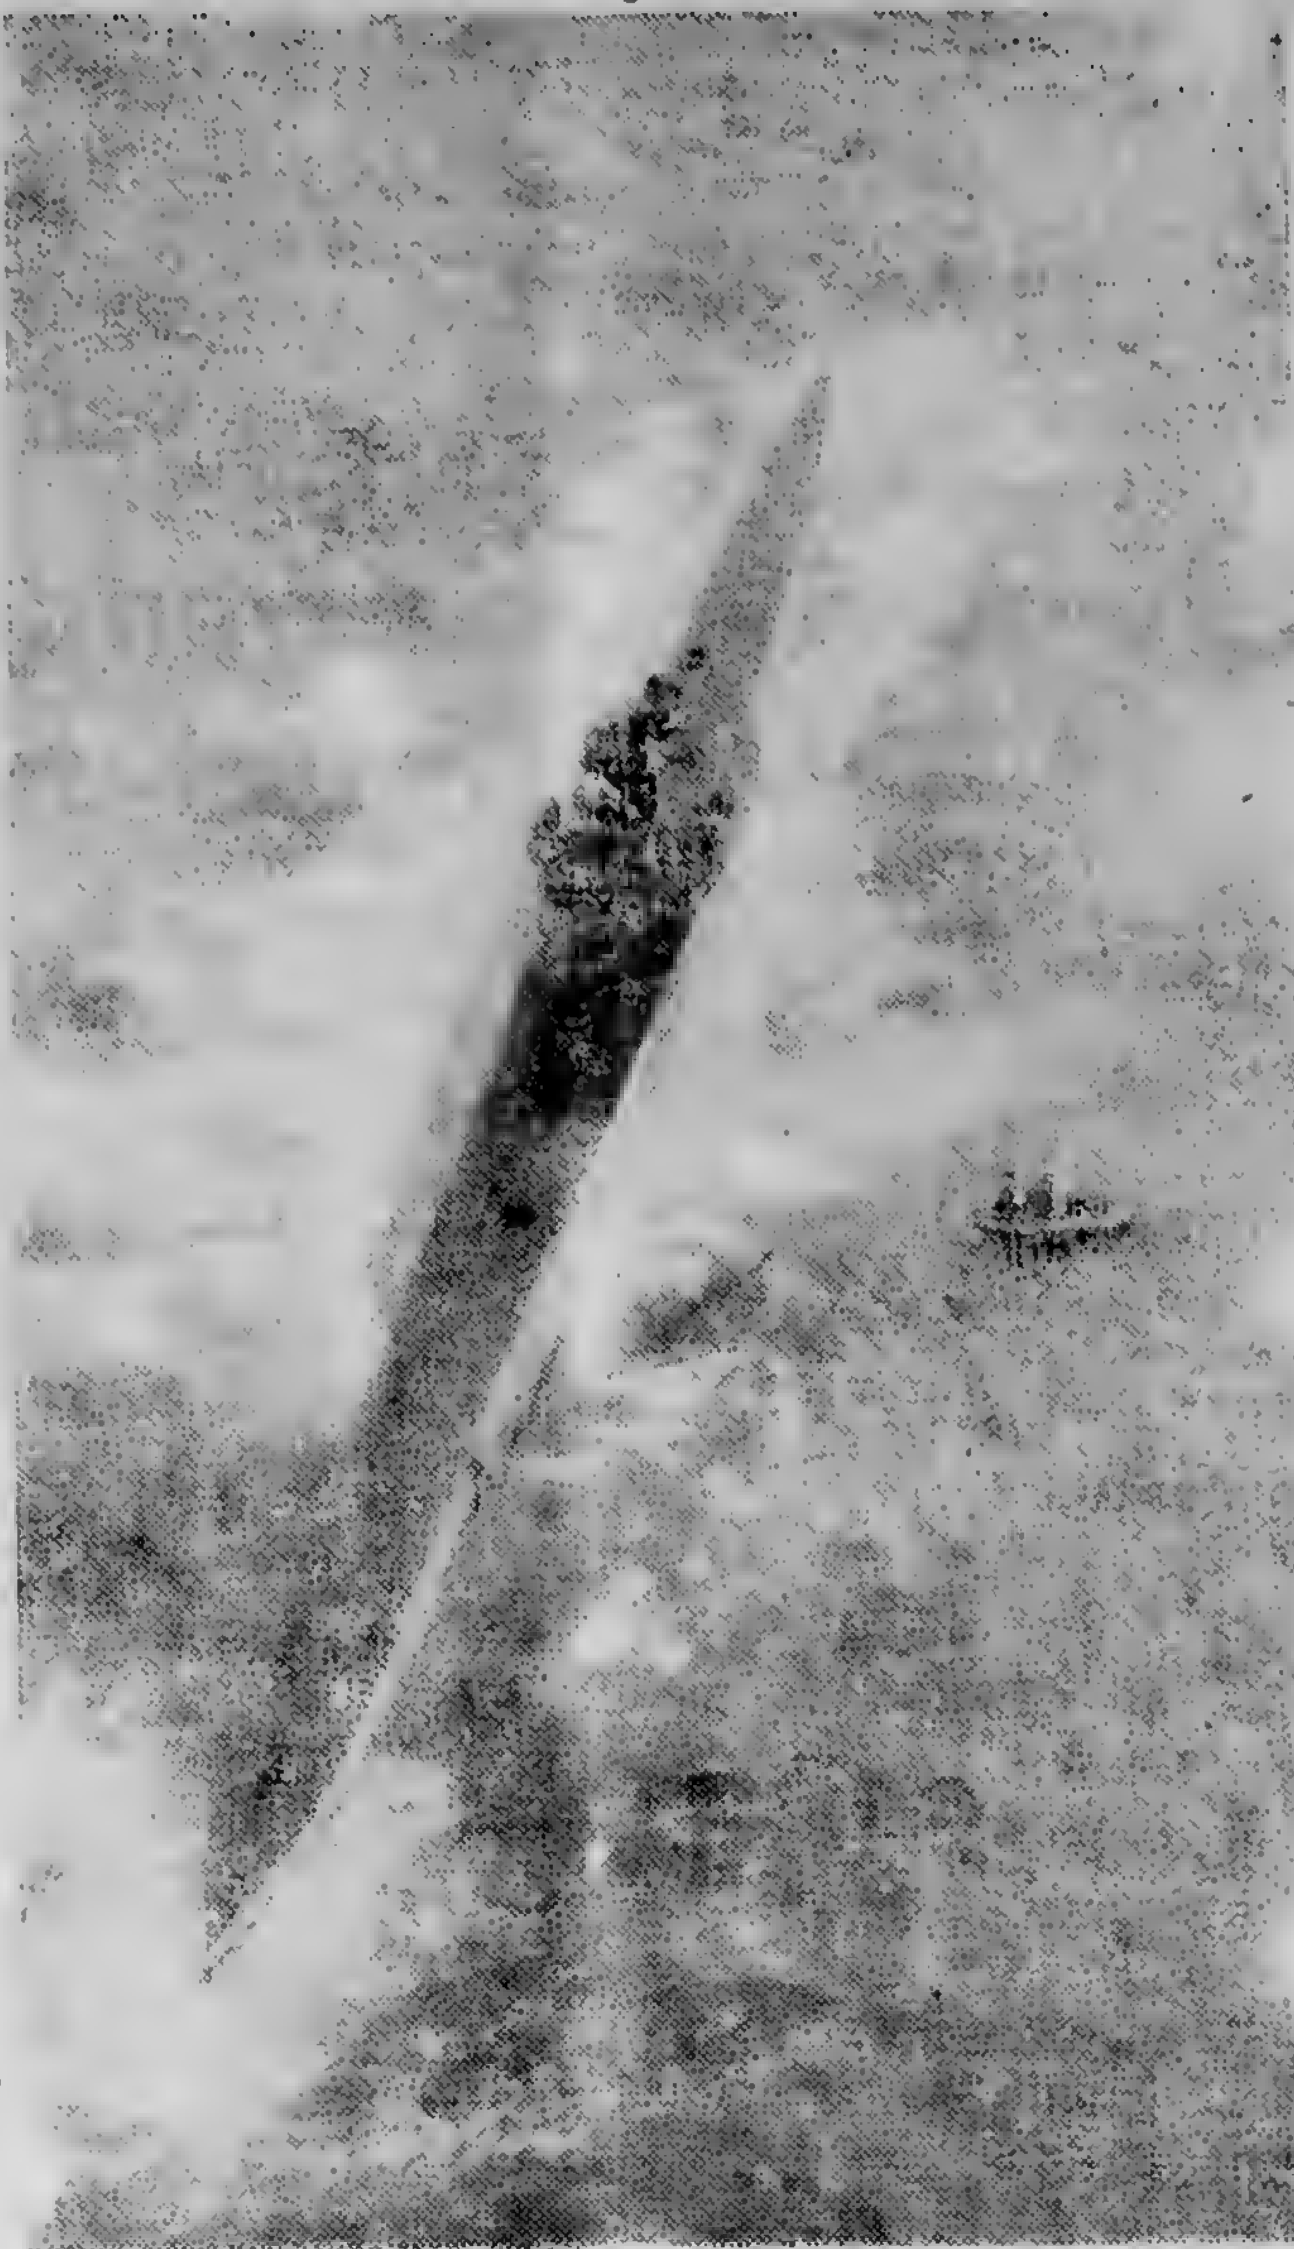

Quebec, and Eastern Point, Asbestos, Quebec, illustrates the salvage activity among the smaller French Canadian centers. Asbestos made a drive in July which netted 21 tons of ferrous metal, nearly four and a half tons of copper, 11 tons of paper. The value was $8,047. During August and September, Asbestos workers recovered 65 tons of rags, 214 tons of iron and steel, 11 & a half tons of paper. The value came to $3,120.

The Maritimes are also active. In Dalhousie, New Brunswick, a women's organization has been making steady collections since early in the campaign. The first month netted $230, and collections have increased until the October returns came to $100.

The Pictou County Salvage Committee, of Pictou, Nova Scotia, sold salvage to the amount of $209 during October.

Prairie Towns Busy The larger points in Western Canada are hard put to uphold their laurels for intensive salvage work, according to the

The U-Boat That Surrendered To A British Aeroplane

Another victory for Britain in the Battle of the Atlantic, and a unique event in naval history, amazed the whole world when a German submarine surrendered to a British aeroplane in mid-Atlantic.

The plane, a Hudson aircraft of the British Air Force's Coastal Command, sighted a German U-boat in the Atlantic, attacked it, and forced it to surrender. After nearly four hours' keeping watch the Hudson was relieved by a Catalina flying boat which continued the watch from above until the arrival of ships of the British Navy.

John E. Pugh, formerly Indian Agent at Cardston and now with the R.C.A.F. as an instructor has recently been promoted to the rank of Flight Lieutenant. F. O. Pugh is stationed at Edmonton.

The weather by this time was so bad that the British ships could not lower a boat, and had to stand by throughout the night, keeping the submarine covered by their guns. Next day the German U-boat was boarded and taken in tow to a British port.

The photograph shows a Carley float, which was lowered from one of the British ships, approaching the captured U-boat. The British officer who formally "took over" the U-boat is the second figure in the float.

returns at national salvage headquarters. Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Calgary, Vancouver have all been recovering large quantities of useful secondary materials. But on a per capita basis, the smaller prairie centers have been doing surprisingly well.

The I.O.D.E. of Kirkella, Manitoba, a very small town, collected 26 and a half tons of scrap iron and steel, which brought in $186 for war charity.

The Red Cross of Welwyn, Saskatchewan, made a drive for scrap metal, collected 44 tons, and raised $300 for its war work.

"These are only a few of the 2,227 local salvage committees active across Canada," stressed Mr. Knightley. "Many more returns are available in our files."

The director concluded with the warning: "Much more needs to be done. Newspaper reports are now making Canadians aware of the dangerous shortages pending in various raw materials. Salvaging secondary materials is an important way of helping to hold off the danger of factories shut down because of lack of materials. We must keep high, and raise higher, all salvage collections."

We have had a week of wonderful weather haven't we. So warm and mild that even a light top coat was more of a precaution than a needed protection.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Lucille Paxman entertained the community ladies. The afternoon was spent in making quilt blocks. A dainty lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Wood are spending a few weeks with Lincoln's parents. Prices and new home is being finished up. Mrs. T. Geo. Wood while their delay in obtaining some of the materials for their home has caused this move.

THE GREAT DICTATOR

Read what one exhibitor has to say about: The Great Dictator: Charles Chaplin, Jack Oakie, Paulette Goddard—Much has been said and written about this picture, no doubt, but my opinion about "The Great Dictator" might be colored some what by the excellent business we did on this. Exhibitors are inclined to look with rose-colored glasses at a picture when the cash register jingles merrily after a prolonged lean spell. But I was sold on the fine qualities of this so I really got behind it. I, personally, class this as an outstanding masterpiece. Chaplin had the nerve to show the world what Nazism means so, to that extent, it is an out-and-out Anti-Nazi picture, but he also gave us a great deal of the Chaplin humor, which was Chaplin at his funniest.

Regarding the much discussed speech at the end, we have a good percentage of rough-necks and what may be termed lower classes, and often it is hard to maintain strict order and quiet, but this mixed audience, and it was a good sized crowd, were so quiet during the speech that you could almost hear a pin drop, and a burst of applause at the end that would have done Chaplin's heart good.

Will It be Necessary next Spring to Try to Keep the Wheat Acreage as Low as Possible

About a year ago it appeared quite obvious that on account of a burdensome surplus of wheat low prices should be expected for this season's crop. Most farmers, therefore, who were able to reduce their wheat acreage began seriously to consider doing so.

In many of the drier parts of the province it is always extremely difficult, and perhaps impossible to grow other crops that would be equally as profitable as wheat, but on irrigated land, and in districts with a fair precipitation suitable substitutes can often be found for at least some of the wheat acreage. When wheat is grown under such conditions it only tends to add to the wheat surplus and aggravate conditions for the strictly dry land farmer.

How different is the wheat situation for the Western Canadian farmer today from what it was a year ago, and is it still just as necessary to look for substitute crops? Some authorities estimate that this season's crop has increased our previous heavy surplus by about 55 million bushels. Broomhall who is probably the world's greatest authority on wheat marketing, has estimated that North America's wheat surplus has increased this year by about 120 million bushels over what it was a year ago. Naturally wheat prices will continue to be low until this wheat surplus becomes considerably reduced. Unfortunately it does not seem possible at present to increase the sugar beet acreage. On irrigated land sugar beets have proved to be the best substitute for wheat. Peas, beans and corn are also being grown successfully. Soybeans are commanding a great deal of attention and two new varieties, namely, Kabott and Pagoda, show some promise, as these are decidedly superior in many respects to other varieties tested at the Station.

A study of the yields of oats, barley and flax over a long period of years at the Station indicate that with grain prices as they are at present, oats and barley should give just as good returns as wheat, even if the grain is valued only at elevator prices. Much better returns would, of course, be received by feeding it. Flax at its present market value should have returned about $5.00 more per acre on irrigated land than wheat this season.

Unless some means of reducing the wheat surplus occurs between now and seeding time it would appear advisable to still try to use more profitable crops than wheat, wherever possible.

The Price Ceiling Order is Now Law

A fine up to $5,000 and two years imprisonment is provided for offences against this law

What You Must do to Comply with the Law

1. As a Consumer

You must not buy goods or services for more than the highest price charged for such goods or services during the basic period, September 15 to October 11. If in doubt, ask your merchant for proof the price he asks is a lawful price under the Price Ceiling order. Normal seasonal price changes in fresh fruits and vegetables and greenhouse products are exempt.

2. As a Retailer

You must not sell goods or services for more than the highest price at which you sold such goods or services in the basic period, September 15 to October 11.

You must not buy goods or services from manufacturers or wholesalers or any other sources for more than the highest price you paid to them in the basic period.

It is intended that cases of serious hardship should be adjusted by reducing the cost of merchandise to the retailer. Retailers whose cost of merchandise delivered to them after November 30 is too high in relation to the ceiling prices, should get in touch with their suppliers and try to arrange an adjustment fair to both parties.

The price of goods of a kind or quality not sold during the basic period must not be more than the highest price charged for substantially similar goods in the basic period.

3. As a Wholesaler

You must not sell goods or services at more than your highest price (less discounts then prevailing) for such goods or services during the basic period, September 15 to October 11. You must not buy goods or services for more than the highest prices paid during the basic period.

Wholesalers will be expected in some cases to reduce their prices below the ceiling in order that their retail accounts may carry on. Wholesalers in turn may have to ask their suppliers for price reductions.

The continued flow of goods through normal channels is of utmost importance and the Board will intervene if suppliers divert business abnormally from one customer to another.

4. As a Manufacturer

You must not sell at prices higher than your highest price (less discounts then prevailing) during the basic period, September 15 to October 11.

In some cases it will be necessary for manufacturers to reduce their prices below the ceiling so that wholesale and retail accounts may carry on.

Where maintenance of the retail ceiling requires manufacturers' prices to be substantially reduced, the Board will investigate and in proper cases will afford necessary relief.

Imports

Retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers are assured by the Board that any considerable increases in the costs of import of essential goods will be covered either by subsidies or by adjustment of taxes. Details will be announced shortly.

Services Also Come Under This Law

The Price Ceiling law also applies to rates and charges for electricity, gas, steam heat, water, telegraph, wireless, telephone, transportation, provision of dock, harbour and pier facilities; warehousing and storage; manufacturing process performed on a commission or custom basis; undertaking and embalming; laundering, cleaning, tailoring and dressmaking; hairdressing, barbering and beauty parlour services; plumbing, heating, painting, decorating, cleaning and renovating; repairing of all kinds; supplying of meals, refreshments and beverages; exhibiting of motion pictures.

NO CHEATING OR EVASION OF THE PRICE CEILING LAW WILL BE TOLERATED

"How the Price Law Works," a pamphlet setting forth how each branch of business must apply the regulations to its own operation will shortly be available at Post Offices and Branch Banks.

The Board will soon open Regional Offices throughout Canada where problems may be discussed. These Offices will co-operate with business in the adjustment of difficulties.

The Price Ceiling law is vital to Canada's war effort.

GERALD PALMER PRESUMED LOST

The most recent communication from the Dept. of Air Transport at Ottawa to the F. M. Palmer family, whose son Gerald disappeared between Vancouver and Victoria with the rest of the crew while ferrying planes from east to west, is that the month old search has been discontinued and that Gerald and the rest of the crew must be considered lost.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the parents and brothers and sisters in their sad bereavement. However, because of the nature of the country where the plane is believed to have disappeared and the mildness of the climate, there is a bare hope that the crew is still alive, and everyone is clinging to this hope.

Gerald was a popular young man here, and had previously made several trips from east to west in these large planes. The last on had made two or three

RAIN DECEMBER 3RD.

We should have kept records. With the shower of rain early Wednesday morning, Dec. 3rd, we believe Southern Alberta made history. It was a mild day throughout, and in Cardston streets were wet and muddy, early in the morning from a rain which set in about 11 p.m. Tuesday night and continued all night.

Old-timers remember when winter descended about the middle of October here and except for the occasional Chinook, followed by another severe spell of weather, there was no respite. What a decided and very pleasant change the past fifteen or twenty years has witnessed in forced landings along the way because of trouble, and after leaving Penticton, B. C. was never definitely identified again although officials of the Department believe it went over Vancouver. Friends in Raymond still hope for the best.

For the third time, the fluid had to be taken from the elbow of little Wayne Baker's arm, on Tuesday. Two weeks ago while Mrs. Baker was washing she turned off the electricity and went to hang out the clothes. Wayne went to the basement and turned on the electricity and started playing with the wringer. In some way his hand got caught. He screamed for help but before the hired girl or Mrs. Baker could get there it had drawn him in over his shoulder. The skin was broken over the shoulder blade necessitating 9 stitches. Although the stitches have been removed the arm still has to be under the doctors' care.

our winter weather. We like it, what about you?

DISTRICT GOVERNOR ADDRESSES ROTARIANS

Members could perform a worthy task by giving counsel to youth.

Reporting that the membership of his district had fallen since the war, Mr. Abbott told of the formation of Rotary clubs in towns which were not believed able to maintain such a body.

Before concluding his illuminating address, the district governor stated that the movement had a three-fold goal: 1. The organization of a Rotary club in every community able to maintain one; 2. Have in each club a member of every classification permitted by Rotary regulations; 3. Make every member a real Rotarian.

After the regular meeting, the Governor met in an informal session with the Club executive and Committee chairman where the men in charge of the operation of the local Club discussed their problems and gave reports of what had been done and what was contemplated.

Headed by President Gilbert Patterson of the Lethbridge Club, Bob Paton, Milt Moffatt, Charlie Long, Bill Derby, Frank Wilkins and Russell Haig were in attendance at the luncheon adding to the attendance. By special permission the visitors were escorted through the Sugar Factory during the afternoon by Frank R. Taylor.

CLIFFE ADDRESSES FARMERS

Dr. A. E. Cliffe, manager feeds division, Ogilvie Flour Mills, Limited, Montreal, well known for his researches in animal nutrition, gave an interesting talk to a crowded gathering of farmers and ranchers in the Town Hall on Friday.

Dr. Cliffe is master of his subject and he spoke for two hours on the factors influencing the correct development of hogs, beef and dairy cattle and sheep. He has a talent for explaining the technical problems of nutrition in a simple manner and he demonstrated the parts which vitamins and minerals play in stock raising. The speaker said that we are living in an age of deficiencies and that while our grains show the same protein fat and fibre of former years, there were many essentials in the mineral and vitamin content of those grains that were missing today. He said that the most essential part of the grain, apart from the proteins, was the germ which is nature's best source of the B vitamins which control the growth and development of all animal. The vitamin B complex found in cereals particularly wheat in playing a great part in animal feeding as wheat germ oil extracted from the wheat germ, and is of immense value in animal breeding.

At the close of his talk the speaker conducted a question and answer period.

H. J. Fromm attached to the No. 8 Bombing School, Lethbridge, spent Mon. evening with his parents and family here.

We have had a lot of wind the past ten days. On Tuesday Lethbridge reported a velocity of 82 miles per hour.

Mr. and Mrs. A. "Mutt" Ralph drove to Calgary Tuesday evening to see their daughter who is in hospital there receiving treatments to her leg which has been quite stiff for several months past following an accident.

NEWS NOTES

A. W. Jones left on the night bus from Lethbridge Tues. evening and is attending the Provincial Social Credit Convention now in session in Calgary.

We have it, though unofficially, that the new Chesterfield won by Jim Meeks is to help furnish the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Meeks, now nearing completion. A pretty good Santa Claus for the newlyweds we'd say.

After attending most of the Conference here, Elder Rufus K. Hardy of the First Council of Seventy left for Butte, Mont. Sunday afternoon where he had some urgent matters to attend to for the Church.

The lower part of the windows at the "Centre" received a coat of bright green paint last week.

One of the largest crowds ever assembled in the new Stake House was present for the Sunday evening session of Conference when the overflow had to be seated in the Relief Society rooms after the chapel and recreation hall were filled to the doos.

Major F. H. Jenkins will be here Monday afternoon on his recruiting tour for the armed forces of Canada. Anyone interested in volunteering their service in any arm of the service should contact him for information. He will be at the Town Hall.
